THE PRESENTATION OF THE FRANK KATTWINKEL AWARD

Hear these words from the Prophet Isaiah (58:9-11, NIV)

If you remove the yoke, the pointing of fingers, the speaking of evil; if you offer food to the hungry and satisfy the needs of the afflicted, then your light shall rise in the darkness and shine like the noonday sun.

The Lord will guide you and satisfy your needs and make your bones strong, and you'll be like a gushing spring of water that never fails.

A TIME OF CONTEMPLATION & CONFESSION

Trusting in God's tender mercy, let us consider ~

*In the light of God's love, we can truly see ourselves, all the goodness, all the potential, all the hopes and dreams of parents and grandparents;
all that is good and pure and holy.

*God's light exposes all those who are hurting, and those we have hurt, and that same light bathes us in grace that is good and pure and holy.

*Loving and eternal God, release our judgement of others and of ourselves through all that is good and pure and holy.

Refrain

and calls us to live with purpose, mercy and grace.*

We believe in Jesus Christ, the Light of the World, who makes us the salt of the earth - preserving what is good, bringing flavor to what is bland, and shining hope into the shadows.

who empowers us to walk in righteousness, season the world with grace, and reflect the light of Christ in every word and deed.

This is our faith and our calling. Thanks be to God!
